SHOES THAT SAVE LEATHER

American Inventor Claims to Have Made a Discovery of Much Economical Importance.

If you were to hear someone say, "He's wearing out shoe cotton looking for a job," wouldn't it sound queer? You have been used to hearing it said this way: "He's wearing out shoe leather looking for a job."

But the new way won't sound so foolish if the plans of an American do not go astray—for he has invented a cotton shoe sole which experts say is as good as leather.

Leather is scarce and dear because cattle are getting relatively scarcer and scarcer every year. An actual decrease of 4,000,000 cattle in the United States in twenty years has been found by the census enumerators of Uncle Sam. But in the same period of time the population of the country has been increased by 29,000,000. At the beginning of the two-decade period, or in 1890, there were almost as many cattle in the land as there were human beings, but in 1910 there were well toward twice as many people as cattle.

Inasmuch as cotton is cheaper than cowhides, it stands to reason that cotton soles should make our shoes cheaper.

Color Photography.

The newest process for photography in color is the invention of an Englishman who has made his home in this country, and it has several advantages over the processes which have preceded it. This method calls for the exposure of two plates sensitized for all colors, either simultaneously or in quick succession, one through a red filter, the other through a green filter. The plates are developed and fixed in the usual manner, after which the black silver forming the image is removed by simple chemical means. The plates are then dyed—that taken through the red filter in a green dye and that taken through the green filter in a red dye. The plates take up the dyes in inverse proportion to the original silver deposit. They are then brought face to face and bound up in register, the combination of the two color images by transmitted light giving a reproduction of the original.

Disturbed by Cannonading.

The Times and other English publications have contained numerous accounts of the disturbance noted among the pheasants of northeastern England during the North sea battle of January 24, apparently indicating that these birds heard the cannonading—so mainly as to be much excited thereby—though in most places it was imperceptible to the human senses. An alternative suggestion, offered by Doctor Davison, is that the disturbance of the birds was due to the sudden swaying of low trees and shrubs under the effect of inaudible air waves.—Scientific American.

DAILY EXPRESS ICE BLANKET

Saves 1/2 Your Ice Bills.

To its many subscribers, old and new, the Daily Express is offering a most unique premium that should at once become popular in every home in Chickasha where there is a refrigerator or ice box. The blanket is made of vegetable parchment, is thoroughly sanitary, and its value lies in the fact that it excludes heat from the outside and retains the cold air beneath. Just place the blanket loose over exposed side of ice, top or front, tucking the edge in. It will keep the outside warm air from coming in contact with the ice and save one half, and will not decrease refrigeration. The blanket is not porous so it will not become musty or strong smelling, won't dissolve or go to pieces when wet, so you need have no fear of clogging the drain pipe. Don't use any more porous, unsanitary cloths, burlap sacks or newspapers on your ice.

The only consideration necessary to secure one of these blankets, is to pay one month's subscription in advance to the Daily Express—forty cents—and our solicitor, or collectors, will deliver one of the blankets to you on the same terms at the Daily Express office.

If you do not desire to advance your subscription one month, the ice blanket may be bought at this office. Price 10 cents.

Barbed wire cuts, ragged wounds, collar and harness galls heal up quickly when Ballard's Snow Lintment is applied. It is both healing and antiseptic. Price 25c, 50 and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Owl Drug Store.—Adv. d&w
